COTTON HARVEST NEARS COMPLETION IN COUNTY

Cotton Harvest of the 1950 crop in Milam County will soon be over, according to P. W. Davis, Manager at the Cameron Compress.

Mr. Davis said that only light picking in some of the surrounding area was yet to be harvested and this should be completed within the next few weeks.

Mr. Davis reports a total of 12,000 bales have been received at the local by the end of the season. Milam County's crop this year is one of the compress and 12,500 might be reached shortest in recent years, due chiefly to the cotton restrictions and the summer drouth.

Farmers in the county harvested the majority of their crop early and took advantage of the higher prices that prevailed earlier in the season.

Milam County farmers are convening tonight in a called meeting at the Court House for discussions on cotton restrictions for 1951. The majority of Milam County farmers are favoring continued restrictions on cotton.

It was estimated earlier in the season that the County would produce 16,000 bales.

PARADE SLATED HERE FOR DECEMBER 4

Members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Business and Professional Women's Club met in a joint session Thursday night, October 26, to make preliminary plans for the Community Christmas program to be held on December 4.

A big Christmas parade is scheduled for December 4th and the program will be carried out in much the same manner as last year. These programs have been of great interest here in the past few years and people from adjoining counties have been in Cameron to witness this yuletide event.

Miss Mildred Thornton, chairman of the Business and Professional Women's Club committee and W. J. Donovan, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee, led discussions and outlined plans for the coming event.

Plans were also made for the enlargement of the Manger Scene in the city park this year and the song fest and programs to be held there on the 4th.

The Home Decorating Contest will be handled in much the same manner as last year with the exception of a few added rules, namely, each entrant must have their entry completed and entered by the 15th of December.

Miss Thornton is in charge of the entries. She said that it was the desire of the committee that the decorations will be allowed to remain up until New Years so that everyone will have a chance to enjoy them.

Many beautiful and unusual arrangements are being planned this year and some have said they have been working on their arrangements during the entire year. Another rule of the contest is that the arrangements must be visible from the streets and must be lighted, so as to be seen at night.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce was represented by Narvie Caperton and they have planned to assist in the street decorating project.

Funds to finance this program will be solicited from the merchants by members of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The merchants are always very generous in their donations for this worthwhile program.

TRUMAN BARELY ESCAPES DEATH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Two fiery Puerto Rican revolutionists shot their way to President Truman's doorstep today but were mowed down in a gun battle with White House guards before they could carry out their plot to murder the sleeping President.

One of the gunmen was killed, the other seriously wounded.

Tonight, a Secret Service man died of bullet wounds suffered in the roaring gun fight in front of Blair House, Two other guards were hurt, one seriously.

It was the first conspiracy—by two or more persons—to kill a President of the United States since John Wilkes Booth shot Abraham Lincoln in a plot to wipe out the whole leadership of the Government.

Mr. Truman was taking a nap at home. The shots awakened him but the time the assassins stormed his he was unurt .

Those killed were:

Griselio Torresola, from New York, one of the gunmen.

Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, 40, of the Secret Service.

He was shot in the chest, stomach and legs in his valiant—and successful—defense of the President.

The other two guards were critically injured, as was the remaining gunman.

The gun battle took place on the very doorstep of the Blair House. One gunman went down stretched out across the bottom of the mansion's steps. The other fell amid shrubbery nearby.

Thus Mr. Truman escaped the fate of President Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley all of whom died of assassins' bullets.

Mr. Truman was taking a nap in his underwear, before going to Arlington Cemetery to help dedicate a monument to the late Sir John Dill, the British war-time Chief of Staff.

The President once peered out of the window, to see what the shooting was all about. He was quickly waved back by frantic guards .

Thirty minutes later he attended the Arlington ceremonies as scheduled He made an address pleading for understanding among peoples.

The United States, he said "has no ambitions—only world peace."

The dead man was identified by the Secret Service as Griselio Torresola, shot through the head from ear to ear. He was described as a young man from New York. In his pocket were two letters from Pedro Albizu Campos, leader of Puerto Rico's violently anti-United States Party.

The injured man was Oscar Collado, 37, of 173 Brok Avenue, the Bronx, New York. He was shot in the chest, and may live.

In New York, Mrs. Callazo said her

FIRST CRITICAL PHASE OF ARMY EXPANSION PAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—The armed forces announced a slowdown in mobilization of reserves Friday and the Army said it hopes to begin releasing National Guardsmen and others ordered to duty in the Korean war crisis next summer.

In a lengthy joint statement the three services outlined detailed plans for complying with recent orders of Defense Secretary George C. Marshall to put future mobilization of reservists on an orderly basis and release those now in uniform as soon as feasible.

The Air Force said it will stop calling up enlisted reservists on a compulsory basis, effective immediately.

The Navy said it will stop the involuntary recall of reserve aviators and aviation ground officers.

The Air Force said involuntary recall of reserve officers will be confined to those in "critical specialties" where requirements cannot be met by volunteers.

The Marine Corps said reserve officers and enlisted men scheduled for recall by next June 30 will be notified individually by the end of December. Thereafter, those recalled will get four months notice.

Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr., said the "first critical phase of the Army's expansion has been completed."

National Guard and organized reserve units, and individual reservists recalled on an involuntary basis, will be released when they have achieved an "adequate state of training" and when replacements are available through the draft, he said.

While the release will begin next summer, he indicated that it is not expected to be completed before early 1952.

MORE RED RESISTANCE ON ALL FRONTS

SEOUL, (Monday), Oct. 30—Overwhelming United Nations forces, outnumbering stubborn Korean Red pockets of resistance more than three to one, ground relentlessly toward the Manchurian border.

The closest American units were reported within 37 miles of the frontier.

At least six South Korean divisions, three American divisions—swelled by new amphibious landings on the west coast—and a brigade of British Commonwealth troops were taking part in the giant drive.

Their combined forces numbered more than 110,000 men. Farther back, if needed, the Allied command had an estimated 90,000 additional troops.

A Tokyo headquarters spokesman estimated the North Koreans had no more than 37,000 effectives left throughout Korea.

These Reds were making desperate rear-guard stands and behind-the-lines forays. They aparently were trying to slow the Allied advance in a fight for time, now that winter is near.

Field dispatches from all fronts agreed that Red resistance was stiffening.

United Nations field forces, however, were making a strong effort to finish the war quickly and avoid protracted guerilla fighting in oKrea's bitter winter.

The U.S. 7th Division, with South orean troops integrated into its ranks, sent a column pushing north from Iwon following on unopposed landing there Sunday morning.

The 7th Division setup, with 27,000 troops and supplies, was 168 air miles southwest of the boundry of Korea and oviet Siberia on the Sea of Japan. It was 40 miles below advanced columns of the South Korean Capital Division, which has previously reached the east coast port of Songjin.

Allied authorities explained the landing at Iwon—the second behind their own lines in four days—was to keep up with the time table for the U. N. push to the border. Six days' marching time was lost when the amphibious landing at Wonson was held up by thickly planted Communist mines.

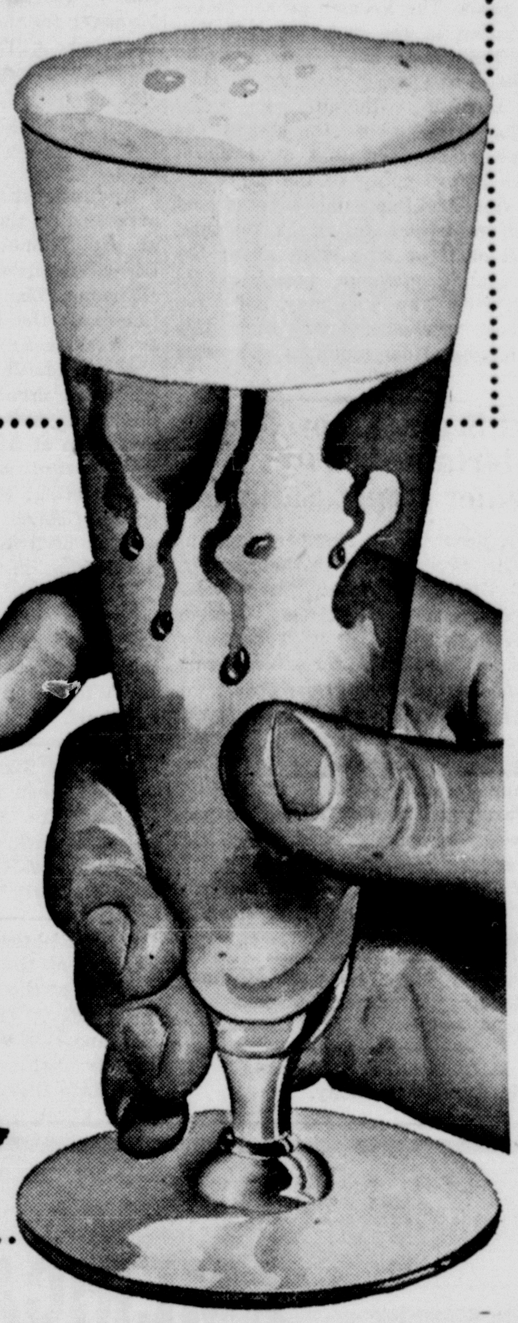

Miss Edna Meryle Angell, daughter of Mr .and Mrs. J. H. Angell, has recently been transferred from Houston to Temple. She is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Rice of Sweetwater spent last week end visiting friends and relatives. Mrs. Rice is the former Bernice Lucko of Ben Arnold.

SENIOR CLASS—

Collins for 1948. No homecoming was held in 1949.

This year, plans are being made for the annual homecoming which will be held on Friday, November 3rd.

The Homecoming game against Belton, Friday, November 3, 1950 will be the main features of the homecoming program planned by the '51 Seniors and the Yoe High Student Council. Ex-students should plan to meet their friends and class mates at the informal reception in the Homemaking living room immediately after the game and the dance and get together will be held in the Yoe High Gym following the reception.

This game of the Yoemen vs. the Tigers will be a football classic. The Yoemen are seeking revenge for the loss of last year—the first time the Tigers had beaten the Yoemen in five years. The Yoemen proved to the spectators in the game against Killeen that they knew how to play football, and on November 3, they will prove it to Belton.

Afterwards plan to attend the reception, register, and meet classmates before going to the dance.

It would be impossible to send personal invitations to all ex-students, so all of those who know about the homecoming program, please get in touch with any who may not have yet been reached and help make this the biggest Homecoming Celebration yet.

Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year

The Texas cattle industry was in dire distress around the turn of the century as the result of splenetic or tick fever, commonly known as Texas fever. Carried by ticks, it killed few native cattle in Texas, but when transplanted to Northern states was deadly. Texas cattle were quarantined, and could find no outlet on the northern markets. Dr. Mark Francis, a young veterinarian from Ohio State University, came to the A. and M. College of Texas and started the search for a means of combatting the scourge. He developed the technique of dipping to free the cattle of ticks, which in time led to lifting of the quarantine. A major problem still remained; purebred cattle could not be brought into Texas to improve our herds, because they lacked the immunity of Texas cattle and immediately fell victims to the fever. Dr. Francis developed the means of immunizing these cattle by inoculation and made possible the development of the modern Texas cattle industry, with its fine cattle in beef and dairy strains. Dr. Francis served as chief of veterinary research and Dean of Veterinary Medicine at the A. and M. College of Texas until his death in 1936.

Want a ride that's "out of this world"?

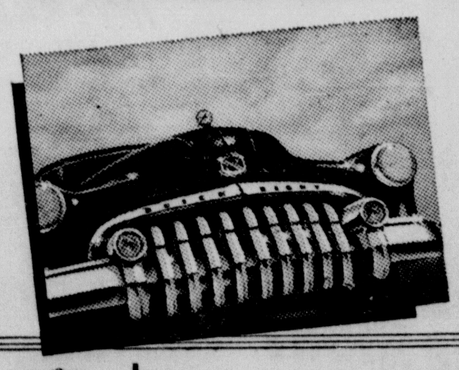

Better Buy Buick!

WANT to be free from that nervous tensing up for a jolt every time a rough spot looms in the road ahead?

Want to enjoy the relaxing feel of a sure-footed car beneath you, that stays level even when the road doesn't?

Well, sir, ease into a Buick and see how such matters are cared for.

See what a wonderful difference in level buoyancy coil springs can make when you have them on all four wheels, not just the front ones.

Note what firm and solid steadiness is yours when a full-length torque-tube drive is your keel—how smoothly you stay on course when the rear wheels can't help but run true.

See what big, low-pressure tires and Buick's wide rims can do to pillow your course without jounce or sway.

In other words, sample this two-ton beauty for over-all stance and balance—and the cradling comfort of its roomy interiors.

And while you're at it, get the very special thrill of its mighty Fireball power plant, plus the free-as-a-bird-in-flight bliss of its Dynaflow Drive.*

It's an experience that you owe yourself—and it's yours for the asking. The thing to do is get in touch with your Buick dealer—and discover the ride that only Buick owners know.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

ENEMY FIGHTS HARD FOR POWER PLANT

TOKYO, Tuesday, October 31—North Korean forces aided by a reported 10,000 Chinese Communists threatened the big United Nations east coast base of Hamhung today with a counterattack that struck within 12 miles of the city. The Communists were fighting furiously to save three power plants vital to Communist Asia.

Leathernecks of the U. S. Seventh Marine Regiment hastily dug in on hills west of Hamhung to throw back an expected assault and South Korean officers called up reinforcements for the city garrison. Red prisoners said they were under orders to capture Hahhung by tomorrow.

Strong circumstantial evidence is piling up that Chinese Communists have stepped into the Korean war in earnest.

Faces were long and conversation was short in this Second ROK (Republic of Korea) Corps headquarters today. Senior Korean officers and their American advisers believe they are up against enemy forces which have come down from the Manchurian border.

Another high-ranking American spokesman said, "We are plenty worried," about the situation at the front.

However, along coast roads, Americans and South Koreans drove almost unopposed toward the Russian and Manchurian borders.

American 24th Division Infantrymen struck out from British-captured Chonju on the west coast and rolled through light opposition to within 40 miles of the Communist refugee capital of Sinuiji at the mouth of the Yalu River.

Inland from both coasts, however, unknown thousands of Chinese Communists troops from at least two officially identified units were fighting beside Korean Reds and throwing one counterattack after another at Republican troops driving on the Chosen-Fusen reservoirs in the north central mountains and the Suiho dam system on the Yalu River border of Manchuria.

The Communist drive posed an immediate threat to the big United Nations east coast base of Hamhung, 43 miles below the Fusen reservoir.

Two fresh Chinese Communist divisions were in this drive which had split into a two-pronged advance, cutting off one regiment of the South Korean Third Division nine miles below Fusen, and throwing a roadblock behind them only 12 miles from Hamhung.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey Fikes visited her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Brady in Houston over the week end.

EAGLES CHALK UP WIN TO HOLD TITLE CHANCE

Georgetown's title-hopeful Eagles floundered around for three quarters Friday night before catching fire to score two quick touchdowns in the fourth quarter, barely beating the Cameron Yoemen 13-7.

Highly favored Georgetown, the only unbeaten, untied team in district 21-A, was roundly outplayed by the Yoemen for three-fourths of the game.

In the fourth quarter, Georgetown's James Orn threw a pass from the Eagle 45 yard line, which Dean Shaver took on the 50 and went all the way to pay dirt. James Jones' attempted conversion was no good.

Some five minutes later, Georgetown drove to the Yoemen 12 yard line and on the next play made it first and goal to go just inside the Cameron 10 yard line.

After moving the ball to the one and a half yard line Shaver, dived over a couple of Yoemen for the tally. Bailey Marshall kicked the point to put the Eagles ahead 13-0.

Cameron scored its lone touchdown near the end of the game when Eddie Lankford took a screen pass on the Eagle 37 and scampered over. Glenn Rosenberg kicked the point. Final score Georgetown 13, Cameron 7.

Outstanding for the Eagles in the secondary were Shaver, Orn and Marshall. In the line Stix Pennington and Bill Green were the big guns.

For the Yoemen, outstanding backs were Rosenberg and Lankford. The forward wall's shining light was Joe John's.

NORTH KOREANS STOP RETREATING AT BORDER

SEOUL, Friday, October 27—North Koreans stopped retreating and counterattacked Thursday on the left flank of a sector where South Korean troops have reached the Manchurian border.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman acknowledged today that the attacks were well directed.

The Reds, whose resistance had waned since the loss of Pyongyang last week turned on the South Koreans in Northwestern Korea at points 50 to 70 miles north of their fallen capital.

Red resistance also picked up in Northeast Korea in defense of two reservoirs. A powerful force of 50,000 men, including an American Marine and Infantry division, poured ashore at Wonson to bolster the Republic's soldiers in the northeast sector.

A unit of the South Korean 1st Division cut off by Communist forces about 50 miles south of the Manchurian border is being supplied by an air drop. American officers said. Air lift planes have dropped 40 tons of supplies to the South Koreans, it was announced.

As reports of new-found bitter Red resistance came from wide-spread areas, authorities gave differing answers to these questions:

Will American and British Commonwealth troops push all the way to the border in support of the Korean Republican forces at the risk of dangerous international incidents?

Have Chinese Red troops gone to the aid of the disorganized North Korean Communist fighting force?

The Seventh Regiment of the South Korean Sixth Division had reached the border town of Chosan at 5:50 p. m. Thursday and sent patrols three miles north to the boundary marking Yalu River.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM PLANS ARE BEING MADE

Miss Mildred Thornton, Chairman of the B & PW Committee for the Annual Christmas Program, and parade and home decorating contest today announced that members of the Business and Professional Women's Club would contact every merchant in Cameron November 2, 3, and 6 for their contributions, which are made annually to finance this program.

It is hoped that the merchants will give their usual splendid cooperation in making their generous contributions. This will be a great help to those making the collections, as they are giving their time away from their work to contact the merchants.

This program is financed each year by the merchants and sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and Business and Professional Women's Club jointly.

A meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday afternoon by the members of this committee and the list of merchants, with a suggested amount shown by each name based o nlast year's donations, was divided and given each worker. The names of those contributing and the amount of the contributions will be published in the paper. At the end of the program, when all expenses have been paid, a financial statement will be published.

This is a worthwhile program and everyone is looking forward for it to get under way December 4th.

TRUMAN BARELY —

husband belonged to the Nationalist party whose revolution in Puerto Rico was put down earlier this week with a loss of more than 30 lives.

Puerto Rico is a possession of the United States, but elects its own local offices and governor.

The Nationalist party has said it started the revolution in an attempt to get independence. Governor Luiz Munoz Martin has described as members of "a conspiracy against Democracy helped by the Communists."

The connection between Torresola and Collazo was not immedately made clear. But in one of the letters Campos, the revolutionary leader, told Torresola:

"If for any reason it should be necessary for you to assume the leadership of the movement in the United States, you will do so without hesitation of any kind.' '

And Collazo told Secret Service Agents:

"We came here for the express purpose of shooting the President."

Only a few hours before the attempted assassinatation, an unidentified man hurled two blazing gasoline bottles into a crowd at the Puerto Rican Government Labor office in New York.

The wounded policemen were :

Pvt. Don T. Birdzell, 41, both knees shattered by shots, but he will recover.

Pvt. Joseph H .Downs, 44, a plain clothes officer, Shot in chest and stomach. He later died."

The Blair House is across Pennsylvania Avenue and up the street about a block from the White House. The Trumans are living there while the White House is being repaired.

Here is the scene, as pieced together from eyewitness accounts.

At 1:15 p .m. (CST), all was calm on this warm, lovely Fall day. Then pandemonium.

U. E. Baugham, Chief of the Service, said Collazo strolled by the sentry box at one side of the Blair House without attracting notice.

He went along Pennsylvania Avenue sidewalk until he was within 10 feet of the entrance.

Birdzell was there, but facing the other way. He heard a click, and turned.

Collazo said nothing, but opened fire.

Birdzell rushed into the street, even though hit. He said he was trying to draw the fire away from the Blair House.

By this time oficers Floyd Boring, standing outside the sentry box, and officer Joseph O. Davidson, who was inside, opened fire.

One of them dropped him. Neither report said he actually had gone up a few steps before the bullets mowed his down.

He fell at the foot of the steps. One knows who fired the shot.

Torresola was operating to the west of the Blair House.

What happened here is confused. Both men who shot him are in critical condition, and he is dead.

He died against a clump of shrubbery, about 30 feet from his companion.

Both men were well dressed. Each wore what appeared to be identical pinstripe suits. Oddly enough ,each fell and lay with his hat on.

About 20 shots were fired.

At least four of these ripped into the Blair House. One window, almost at street level, was shattered. One shot lodged in a door .

Why had these men risked their lives in an effort to kill the President?

The answer was not completely understood here tonight. And Callazo himself wasn't very co-operative.

He was asked what was his purpose in coming here to make the attack.

"Oh, just political,' 'he said.

But exactly why he thought the death of an American President would help his cause isn't known.

Secret Service men studied the two letters for light on the question.

One read:

"My Dear Griselio:

"If for any reason it should be necessary for you to assume the leadership of the movement in the United States, you will do so without hesitation of any kind. We are leaving to your high sense of patriotism and sane judgement everything regarding this matter.

"Cordially yours, Pedro Alibzo Campos."

The second was in the form of a memorandum, written in Spanish. Translated it read:

"Gorsoline will collect the funds which I consider necessary to take care of the supreme necessities of the cause. He will be responsible dicectly to the general treasurer. The cessary co-operation so that your misdelegate will acord you all the nesion may be a triumph.

'San Juan, Puerto Rico, Sept. 21, 1950."

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder

"It was a tragic affair, but it proissued a statement in which he said:

ved the effectiveness of the security measures of the Secret Service, and dmonstrated the bravery of the officers and special agents who are prepared to sacrifice their own lives to protect the person of the President.

"I am extremely proud of the courage they displayed in preventing what could have been a national tragedy."

Being President always has been a hazardous job. But Secretary Ross said Mr. Truman does not plan to change his regular routine. Ross said the President plans to continue his frequent morning walks.

Police speculated that the two gunmen knew of the President's impending trip to Arlington, and had timed their bold raid in hopes of meeting him at or near the door. If that was the plot, their timing was only several minutes off.

Mrs. Trent N. Hellman of Alvin was a visitor in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nabours over the week end. Her daughter Jane returned with her after a visit with her grandparents.
